

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Holes ,in a silk or other expensive garment ,have prevented the use of decorative jewelry to add accessories to enhance its beauty. Because most pins use a fabric piercing method of attaching pins or other jewelry, people who have expensive garments usually forego use of them. This system of non-fabric piercing pins will make it possible to attach a decorative piece of jewelry to a garment without damaging the fabric. Through the use of appropriately used glue and magnets, inexpensive and easily available products, this system results in an enhanced utility for expensive or less expensive jewelry.
